About this turf

Monarch Zoysia is a dense, medium leaf turf variety which is increasing in popularity over couch varieties for its highly appealing look alone.

As a lawn choice, Monarch offers many advantages over other turf types, and is well worth considering for a low maintenance lawn.

It has a slower growth rate than green or blue couch but it's still a fast to recover turf due to its deep root system. Its greatest benefit is the need for significantly less mowing – approximately 35 - 40% less - than couch. This is NOT the lawn mowing enthusiasts variety! This slower growth rate also makes it a far less aggressive grass, needing significantly less edging to keep it from invading the garden beds. Monarch Zoysia is also less likely to scalp than couch if it is cut too short.

Monarch Zoysia has proven itself to be not only beautiful and soft but also a hard wearing lawn perfectly suited to South East Queensland homes.
